MENDELSON CONSULTING AND RYAN TECHNOLOGIES MERGE TOGETHER TO ENHANCE THE COMPUTER SERVICES OFFERED.

MARCH 20, 2006, PEMBROKE PINES, Ryan Technologies of Hollywood and Mendelson Consulting of Pembroke Pines, will be merging into one company, effective March 31, 2006. The merger will create better customer service for our clients by combining the talents of both companies. In addition, this will allow for faster service and a wider range of computer services offered by Mendelson Consulting, which will be the sole name of the company.

According to Mike Ryan, Senior Field Engineer, "some of the important factors in deciding to merge with Mendelson Consulting are the availability of a time scheduler, phone technical support for customers and a timely, consistent invoice process. In addition, our organizations are very similar to one another in our philosophy about business, the types of clients we serve, our shared commitment to premium service, and our emphasis on ethics and integrity," he said. "We felt those intangibles were just as important as the range of services this integration would offer."

Mendelson Consulting was founded in January 1992 for the purpose of finding the right solutions for small business' computer information needs and implementing those solutions through our professional staff. The solutions started with accounting software training and support, and shortly after expanded to include the design, installation, and support of computer information network systems.

Today, the professional staff of Mendelson Consulting is committed and ready for the continuous challenges that the current information technology environment presents. Business continuity, security, and internal controls keep being underlying concerns as we implement solutions.

Mario Nowogrodzki, founder of Mendelson Consulting will retain his title as CEO and president. "Adding the IT services of Ryan Technologies will enhance the computer services offered at Mendelson Consulting enabling growth of the company," Nowogrodzki said. "By combining the strengths of our two companies and targeting the South Florida market, we expect to grow. This is an exciting time for Mendelson Consulting and Ryan Technologies, and most definitely our customers. Once the business integration is complete, our clients can look forward to even more innovative programs from us that solve their Quickbooks and IT needs."
